“HOW CAN THIS MAN GIVE US HIS FLESH TO EAT?”

Did the Church Always Believe in the Real Presence of Jesus in the Most Holy Eucharist?

At the Last Supper Jesus announced that the bread and wine in His hands were His own body and blood. Recent polls show 70% of Catholics under 35 think Jesus is present only symbolically in bread and wine. While it's been suggested that the wording of the poll's questions confused respondents, it cannot be denied that the Perpetual Sacrifice is being attacked on all sides. Even some Catholic theologians and educators are waffling in their teaching on the substantial reality of the Eucharistic Presence of Jesus. To help Catholics regain “the sense of the sacred” Sean Wright goes back to basics.

Investigating the Old Testament for “Hidden” Eucharistic Prophecy. Fulfilling Mosaic sacrifice and prophetic foreshadowing, evidence of the Catholic understanding of priesthood and the Real Presence is shown as a biblical concept from the first instance. This and the next six topics are very good for an Advent or Lenten series in workshops and enrichment classes.

Discovering Allusions to the Eucharistic Sacrifice in the Words of Jesus. An in-depth look at in the Most Holy Eucharist in parables and events in the life of Jesus, with a focus on John 6 and the Last Supper narratives in the Gospels.
